HOT Jobs Available with Upstate's Hottest New Girl in Town: The new Twin Peaks® Restaurant in Greenville!

Popular Sports Restaurant Recruits Greenville Twin Peaks Girls for New Outpost

Greenville, SC (July 17, 2012) Twin Peaks will open the concept's newest location in Greenville this August and is on the hunt for talent to join the adventure. The mountain lodge-style sports restaurant known for its scenic views is looking for South Carolina's perkier girls to become a part of the hottest new Upstate restaurant.

Located at 1034 Woodruff Road in Greenville, the new Twin Peaks will deliver what Upstate South Carolina has yearned for in a sports restaurant: crave-able and high-quality comfort food, an extensive selection of 29-degree draft beer served from a full-service bar, a lively patio and the outgoing and beautiful Twin Peaks Girls. The bold hunting lodge atmosphere will be punctuated by abundant high-definition televisions, making the location the ultimate sports-watching venue. This is just the third Twin Peaks restaurant to open east of the Mississippi River.

Greenville is now busting with opportunity. That's because becoming a Twin Peaks Girl means prime perks like flexible scheduling for school, a fun work environment with amazing tips, tanning and fitness packages, cool employee contests to win shopping sprees and vacations, the privilege to wear the cute pro-cheerleader-inspired "Lumber-Jill" costume and the chance to star in national modeling opportunities. And the best part of all? No previous restaurant experience is required.

If you’re looking for an amazing job, then this one is tops. Twin Peaks Girl applicants are invited to stop by the new Greenville location to apply any day of the week between 10am and 7pm. Prospective employees should arrive dressed to impress with their bubbly personalities in tow.
